

How to Clean Stains On A Baking Sheet

Learn how to take stains off a baking sheet in less than 30 minutes.

Written By: Ashlee Takushi

INTRODUCTION

Staining a baking sheet makes the item look worn and filthy. Use this guide to clean your kitchenware quickly and easily.

TOOLS:

- sponge (1)
- Baking soda and spoon (1)
- Water (1)

Around 1 cup

- Dishwasher soap (1)
 - Timer (1)
-

Step 1 — How to Clean Stains On A Baking Sheet

- Place the dirty baking sheet on a flat surface.
- Tip: This method can be used on stained pots and pans as well.
- Tip: This method works best if you clean the stained baking sheet as soon as it has cooled after use.
- Note: The liquid on the baking sheet is grease. This method will work whether or not there is grease on the baking sheet

Step 2

- Cover the stained part of the baking sheet with a thin layer of baking soda.
- Note: The liquid on the baking sheet is grease. This method will work whether or not there is grease on the baking sheet

Step 3

- Pour a small amount of water over the baking soda so the baking soda looks pasty.
- Tip: Do not put too much water on the baking soda, as it will cause the baking soda to spread and not stay on the desired cleaning area.

Step 4

- Set a timer for 15 minutes, press start, and wait until timer goes off.

Step 5

- Take a sponge and clean the desired area.
 - Tip: If the baking soda becomes too thick when scrubbing, add more water.
 - Tip: Using the rough side of the sponge makes cleaning easier.

Step 6

- Rinse off the baking soda and wash the baking sheet again with soap and water.

Congratulations! You have a baking sheet that looks good as new.

This document was last generated on 2017-07-11 12:18:14 PM.